

U. S. WILL ACT FOR ENGLAND IN PROTEST OF SLAYING IN MEXICO

TRIAL OF LOEB AND LEOPOLD TO LAST WEEKS YET

State Strengthens Its List Of Alienists For Further Battle

Criminal Court, Chicago, Aug. 4.—A fresh mass of evidence collected by medical scientists to explain why two brilliant young college students of good education and families would deliberately kidnap and murder a 14 year old boy "just for the thrill of it," was spread upon the records of Judge John R. Caverly's court today by the lawyers who are seeking to save Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb from hanging for the slaying of little Bobby Franks.

The state spent the two weeks mulling a "mountain of evidence" upon which the blithe young collegians should hang. The defense plunged headlong into the task of building its own "mountain of evidence" as to why they should not hang.

"Mentally sick" and "queer" are the foundation stones for this defense mountain.

Dr. William Healy, of Boston, one of the pioneers in establishment of the study of mentality as applied to crime, particularly in adolescent young offenders, was the psychiatrist selected by the defense counsel today to show that "Dickie" and "Babe" are queer, that they were "mentally sick" when they hatched in Bobby's head with a cold chisel and then hid his body.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—The lawyers and the scientists seeking to save Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb from the gallows for the sanguinary kidnapping and murder of little "Bobby" Franks completed plans today to make the defense of the two dapper collegians "a real defense."

Encouraged by the success that has thus far attended their efforts to submit "evidence in mitigation" to Judge John R. Caverly, the lawyers now plan to put on at least six alienists of national repute to testify to the "mental sickness" of the slayers and then to follow these up with a score of friends and relatives who will further wear out the doctors that the boys have been "queer" from boyhood.

This evidence will be in mitigation—designed to show Judge Caverly that no normal minds conceived and executed the plot that took a 14 year old boy from a busy street, bashed in his head with a cold chisel, poured hydrochloric acid on his face to destroy the features and then topped it all off by stuffing his naked body down an isolated drain pipe—"just for the thrill."

The net result is going to be, according to the authorities, that this murder trial of the century, as it is called, is going to hold down the boards in Judge Caverly's court for several weeks yet.

Odds can be obtained from nearly any court attaché or lawyer that "Babe" or "Dickie" will still be in the Cook County jail six months from now.

Some put it at a year.

At one time the defense had planned to rest its case entirely upon the testimony of three alienists. But that has now been changed. Present plans call for possibly thirty witnesses for the defense, these to be followed by the alienists who have been engaged by the state to refute the testimony of the defense doctors.

PROBE BEGUN OF TROLLEY CRASH

Cleveland, Aug. 4.—An investigation of the rear-end collision of two city bound trolley trains on the Rapid Transit lines in Shaker boulevard was begun here today by County Prosecutor Edward Stanton. The crash resulted in the injury of 11 persons, including three young women and a 10-year-old child. Stanton decided to investigate this crash and another of a similar nature, which occurred on the same lines on June 9, and which ended in the death of one man and the injury of others. Stanton's decision to investigate followed a request made by Fred H. Caley, secretary of the Cleveland Automobile club, who was injured in the June 9 collision and who is a daily rider on the rapid transit cars. Caley is a member of the accident prevention committee appointed recently by Governor Donahay.

CHARTER FAILS TO OUST CITY BOSS

Cleveland, O., Aug. 4.—Proportional representation, under which Cleveland's city council is elected, has not ousted the boss, but "is a most valuable and promising experiment," while it has not "miraculously emancipated the electorate," Prof. Chester M. May, of Western Reserve university, a student of political science, announced today after an intensive study of the results attained since last January, when Cleveland began to action under a proportional representation charter.

General Pershing Back for Defense Day.

GEN. J. J. PERSHING

General John J. Pershing, Commander-in-Chief of the A. E. F., has returned from France, where he headed a commission that examined American graveyards, to complete the final plans for "Defense Day," September 12, which has aroused much comment.

HUGHES THINKS DAWES PLAN IS TO BE ADOPTED

Secretary of State Expresses Confidence In Berlin Statement

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes declared today that his European visit has strengthened his confidence that the Dawes reparations plan will be adopted.

"I believe we have turned the corner on the road to normal conditions," said Secretary Hughes in a statement to the American correspondents. "The skies are brightening."

"I believe that prompt execution of the Dawes plan is vital to the reconstruction of the world's peace. I am hopeful we are upon the threshold of a new era of peace and prosperity."

The entire German press, including even the most hot headed of the nationalist newspapers, welcomed Secretary Hughes as "the spiritual father of the Dawes plan."

They pointed out that Secretary Hughes directed the way to the Dawes plan in his New Haven speech more than a year ago.

"That speech," commented one newspaper, "was the first impetus to a peaceful and reasonable solution of the reparation problem."

It was recalled that Secretary Hughes is the first high statesman of an "enemy" country to visit Germany in ten years.

The only discord in the welcome came from the communist newspaper Rote Fahne (The Red Flag), which attacked the government, for "officially receiving the American foreign minister, who is agent for American bankers."

INTEREST ON STATE MONEY INCREASES

Columbus, Aug. 4.—State Treasurer Day collected $269,204.13 for the quarter ending July 31 from 400 banks throughout Ohio, which are known as inactive depositories, as interest on state money deposits. This is several thousand dollars more than was collected during the preceding quarter ending April 30, at which time the collections amounted to $265,661.90. In addition to this sum coming from the inactive banks, approximately $50,000 will be collected from the Columbus banks, where the active accounts are kept. The rates continue to remain high despite these days of cheap money, due to the fact that they were made for a two-year period by the banks themselves at the competitive bidding held in March, 1923.

BODY IS FOND IN FREIGHT BOX CAR

Cleveland, O., Aug. 4.—The body of Harry Animus, 30, of Detroit, was found in a freight car at the Nickel Plate freight depot here today. A deep gash in the back of the head at first led police to believe he had been murdered but later this theory was discarded and it was believed that while looking from a door of the car he had been struck on the head by a pole.

Animus, according to papers found in his pocket, had been working for the Ford Motor Company, and had been visiting relatives in Buffalo. The car in which he was found cleared Conneaut at 2 o'clock this morning.

MURDER CAUSES WIDENING GULF IN RELATIONS

American Charge d' Affaires to File Action For Britain

Mexico City, Aug. 4.—Mexico made every effort today to bridge the widening gulf between this country and England over the killing Saturday night of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, a British subject, by agrarians in Puebla state, near the Evans ranch.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Arthur H. S. Schoenfeld, American charge d' affaires at Mexico City, acting for the British government, will present a formal protest to the Mexican government against the slaying of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, a British subject, it was learned here today.

Diplomatic relations do not exist between Great Britain and Mexico and in view of the recent departure of the British charge d' affaires from Mexico, British official business in Mexico City has been handled through the American embassy.

London, Aug. 4.—The British foreign office today asked the United States to investigate the killing of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, a British subject in Mexico, and also to protect all Great Britain's rights in this affair.

London, Aug. 4.—Deep indignation was expressed today by British newspapers over the assassination of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, a British subject in Mexico. It is expected that Premier Ramsay MacDonald will demand full reparation from the Mexican government.

The British foreign office is expected to make formal protest to Mexico City within forty-eight hours.

BRYAN CRITICISED BY SENATOR REED

Kansas City, Aug. 4.—United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri issued a statement here in which he favored the national defense day program. He characterized the refusal of Governor Bryan of Nebraska and other state officials to co-operate in the defense day program as a blunder, saying he would prefer to accept the judgment of General Pershing to that of Governor Bryan and others as to any military maneuver.

Read continued: "Every citizen possessing common sense knows that the day may come when some great power or combination of great powers may attack the United States. The sole purpose of the defense day program is to develop the best possible plan for the mobilization of our resources, so that nations will hesitate to attack us and, should they do so, to repel that attack with the least possible loss. The very object of the experiment is to discover these errors in advance, instead of waiting to learn them on fields strewn thick with the corpses of American boys."

She denied Paris reports that she was soon to marry Jascha Heifetz, world-famous musician.

TWO FLIERS AT ICELAND

INCREASE IN CRIME SHOWN IN TEN YEARS

Clemency Board Report Shows Prison Capacity Raised

Columbus, Aug. 4.—Crime has increased enormously within the past 10 years and the combined population of the three major penal institutions in Ohio has substantially doubled within that time.

This is revealed in the report of the state board of clemency for the fiscal year ending July 1.

Auto theft swells the population of penal institutions by hundreds now. It furnishes the means of getaway in robbery and adds to that of other forms of crime, the report says, and continues: "Then there is the psychology of war. For years we were reading of human slaughter and thinking in terms of bloodshed, violence and arms. Human life was cheapened in the eyes of the susceptible immature. Even prohibition is not an unmixed blessing. Now we have 125 violators of prohibition statutes in the penitentiary—two years ago we had none. The late enormous trek of southern colored men has had its menace. It is reflected in the population of the Ohio penitentiary."

Recommendation for executive clemency has been made by the board in 73 cases during the fiscal year, and with one exception, Governor Donahay followed the recommendation of the board. Each one of the pardoned men is "going straight," and not one has been either reported for violation of his parole or been returned, the report says.

Defending its action in recommending executive clemency to Governor Donahay in so many cases, the board says: "This board has recommended to Governor Donahay during the past year 31 pardon and commutation cases. Save one, executive clemency has followed in every case. This may seem like a large number of pardons. It is. But it should also be remembered, in this connection, that the population of the Ohio penitentiary on June 30, 1924, the end of the fiscal year, was 2,877, almost twice the number 10 years ago."

The number of hearings for parole during the past year was 2,395, as compared with 4,398 during the previous year. This reduction, the report declares, was by reason of the Norwood law. No fees are charged or accepted in behalf of prisoners and the law directs that an attorney or other person shall appear before the board of clemency in behalf of any prisoner seeking his freedom.

The parole honor system is defended by the board, and strong praise is given Warden Thomas for his help in this matter. The men are tested in various degrees by the warden and the test of the honor roll qualifies the prisoners for places on the monthly parole docket.

During the past year paroles were granted to 241 inmates of the penitentiary, conditioned that they leave Ohio, and to 158 inmates of the Mansfield reformatory, and 25 of the women's reformatory at Marysville, on the same condition, making a total of 424. None of these was born in Ohio. The number of parole violators returned during the year was 255, of whom only 57 were paroled by the present board. Out of more than 500 applications for pardons and commutation of sentence during the year, more than 428 were rejected.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 4.—Primary returns show that Senator A. O. Stanley, Democrat, won the nomination for senator over his opponent, John Junior Howe.

Fred M. Sackett of Louisville won the Republican nomination for senator. His majority over B. J. Bethurum of Lexington may exceed 20,000.

John W. Langley of Pikeville was nominated on the Republican ticket to succeed himself in congress. Congressman Langley, who appealed from his federal court conviction of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, made his campaign on what he chose to call a "vindication" of his record.

Five Democratic and five Republican candidates for congress were unopposed. Other congressmen who had opposition were renominated. The successful candidates include Congressman Langley, Republican, Pikeville; M. H. Thatcher, Republican, Louisville; Fred M. Vinson, Democrat, Louisville; R. Y. Thomas, Democrat, Central City; J. M. Robinson, Republican, Barboursville; Virgil Chapman, Jr., Democrat, Paris; Sam McMeekin, Democrat, Louisville.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 4.—Republican and Democratic platforms are denounced in the report of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. Both parties are asserted to be "morally bankrupt" and manipulated by "machine politicians," who have involved the nation in "moral obliquity and unashamed betrayal." Coolidge and Dawes, Davis and Bryan, are dismissed as "unacceptable to labor." The La Follette-Wheeler platform is held to come more closely to the federation's line, up on domestic issues than either of the major party platforms. The report, which indorses La Follette and Wheeler, was adopted by the council.

Sues For $50,000.

Martins Ferry, O., Aug. 4.—Ray W. Tidrick of Holloway, near this city, filed suit for $50,000 damages at St. Clairsville against Edison Russell, 18, who four years ago shot the former's wife, Margaret Tidrick, as she was crossing the Russell farm while returning from a berry picking expedition, causing the loss of her foot. Tidrick alleges that he lost his wife's society for many weeks and that the injury is unhealed. He charges the boy's parents with conspiring to have his wife shot and also named them as defendants.

WADE ELIMINATED AS HIS PLANE IS WRECKED ON TRIP

Smith Joins Nelson at Iceland Without Mishap—Wade On Board Richmond Is Broken-Hearted At His Failure

On board United States Cruiser towards the rocks of Faroe Islands, while the aviator with a sad face, looked on. The plane—the "Boston"—was a total wreck, by the time the cruiser had passed out of sight. As the Richmond drew away Wade turned with stoic courage, written upon his face.

Kirkwall, Scotland, Aug. 4.—The machine of Lieutenant Leigh Wade, one of three United States round the world fliers is a complete wreck, according to a wireless dispatch received here today from the U. S. S. Richmond.

Wade's plane was wrecked when it fell into the ocean when he was trying to fly from here to Iceland. He had, about 115 miles of this leg of his journey when the accident occurred.

Lieutenant Wade and his mechanic, Sergeant Ogden are on board the Richmond which is proceeding to Reykjavik, Iceland.

Wade was heartbroken over his inability to join Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith and Lieutenant Erik Nelson, who have successfully negotiated the hop from Kirkwall to Iceland. Nelson got there Saturday without mishap, Smith tried to make it Saturday, had to turn back, but made the journey Sunday.

Wade had travelled about 19,000 miles when forced to give up the leg by the accident.

Smith and Wade left the Orkneys Sunday morning at 9:17 o'clock. Wade's machine developed engine trouble when he was about half way to the Faroe Islands, and he was forced to alight.

The water was rough and the machine was broken to pieces. Smith kept on, encountering thick fog, which made it doubtful if he could find Hornafjord. He arrived safely at 1:37 o'clock.

The destroyer Billingsly was keeping careful watch upon Wade and went to his assistance as soon as the plane went down.

First news of Wade's trouble was flashed from wireless to Hornafjord. Hornafjord, Iceland, Aug. 4.—(By Radio Aug. 4.)—Lieutenant Erik Nelson and Lieutenant Lowell Smith, two of the United States army aviators who were here here safe and sound today awaiting favorable weather conditions for their hop-off.

While the planes of the two army lieutenants bobbed at anchor in the harbor they were carefully overhauled by the mechanics. The harbor is guarded by a rock-bound coast.

The flight towards Greenland tomorrow or next day if the weather conditions are favorable.

Smith was deeply regretful over the disaster which overcame Lieutenant Leigh Wade, the third United States flyer, whose machine was wrecked 115 miles from Kirkwall, Scotland.

"I am sorry his plane was wrecked, but I am happy that Wade himself escaped injury," said Smith. "According to the news received here Wade was compelled to ride in a choppy sea for sometime after he alighted before he was picked up."

A snub nosed English trawler, the Ruby, was with the British mechanic when the American aviator and his mechanic were secured. The Ruby first took the plane, "The Boston" in tow and wandered with her for considerable distance before the Billingsly could take the aviator and his companion on board.

The Billingsly while on the way to Wade's assistance flashed the ominous message:

"Wade down."

Smith who had been accompanying Wade, saw that the latter's plane was in trouble. He veered from his course and dropped a weighted bag containing a note for the Billingsly.

Bluejackets on the destroyer lost no time in ripping it open and immediately the destroyer was steaming at full speed for the scene of the trouble. Observers upon the destroyer had been keeping watch upon the airplane Boston but were not aware that the motor had gone bad and was giving trouble.

Nelson has completely recovered from his arduous flight alone on Saturday and is anxious to continue. Nelson said that he flew through forty miles of thick fog after leaving the Orkneys but after that the majority of the trip to Iceland was made in clear atmosphere.

"I could not see the other ships, and I did not know what had happened," said the Swedish-American. "I kept on, hoping for the best. The sea was comparatively calm and conditions appeared to be most favorable for the flight."

The United States cruisers and destroyers which are patrolling the route of the airmen are taking up new stations.

It is not yet definitely known whether Wade will continue in another machine or will abandon the ready completed.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

Just what are "bucket shops?"

Just what are "bucket shops?" erage houses which offer "inducement" to customers which legitimate brokers cannot offer such as lower commissions, reduced interest charges and lower margins. This is possible because their transactions are not genuine. The bucket shops have no margin to maintain at the bank, no interest to pay on loans, and no commissions to other brokers or costs of handling securities — because they handle no securities.

Their business is to bet against the customer by book entries, instead of executing his orders as broker. Most inexperienced speculators are "bulls" so that in a long declining market the bucket shops win the bet, gobbling up customers money as profit. When the market turns, the bucket shops lose the bet and they close by the dozen. Whatever happens, the customer loses.

The bucket shops do not wish to exist on the commissions of a broker — they are after the cash capital of their customers.

DISH MITZI—News From All Corners Of This Picnic.

By Jay V. Jay

Here's Mitzi looking very much a part of the landscape in a yellow crepe de chine frock with Irish lace trimming. You will notice that she is offering the sandwich to some one across the way—who happens to be Bill. The Goofer may go hungry, but he really doesn't care so long as he sits next to Mitzi.

Dad and Aunt Sofia occupy a very commodious corner. Dad is going after a squirmy olive and can't seem to stab it because he is looking at Aunt Sofia's voile dress with a lace collar. It's a cool green and the pleated skirt is very graceful. It's quite likely that Dad will upset the thermos bottle in a minute.

Eleanor is tempting the canine taste with deviled ham. Her affection for this would-be chow is entirely distant. Let him approach within pawing-reach of her frock and her love for dogs will vanish. No wonder, though, for her frock is of white linen and has embroidered cherries over it. It's in the tunic straight front style.

Polly and Bill are seemingly engrossed in the problem of the tennis finals. Bill is not too occupied to sneak a glance over his shoulder to see what Mitzi is doing. It's rather a triumph to find her looking his way or, dreadful thought, is it only at Polly's new voile dress which is tucked from neck to hem. A chap never knows!

HERRICK MAY RETIRE SOON, DUE TO HEALTH

Retirement of Myron T. Herrick as American Ambassador to France may be expected soon, according to reliable information reaching Washington. The condition of Mr. Herrick's health which has been failing rapidly, has convinced him that he cannot continue the arduous duties of his post.

The Ambassador's views, it is understood, were communicated to Secretary Hughes when the Secretary of State arrived in Europe, and it is probable his resignation shortly will be in the hands of President Coolidge, to take effect at the convenience of the Administration. It is not unlikely that Mr. Herrick will be importuned to stay on as long as he is able in view of the situation in Europe growing out of efforts to adjust the reparations problem.

No official confirmation of the report, either from the White House or the State Department, was forthcoming but at the same time no effort was made to deny that Ambassador Herrick's physical condition had been the cause of serious concern both to himself and his friends.

Mr. Herrick will be seventy years old in October and, with the exception of a short leave in 1923, has been on the job in Paris since his appointment by President Harding early in 1921. When Mr. Herrick was in the United States in the spring of 1923, there were rumors that he would not return to Paris, but those were dissipated when he sailed for his post shortly before President Harding started on his ill-fated Alaska trip.

Mr. Herrick's attachment for the Paris diplomatic post is well known and friends here say that he would not think of retiring unless he considered that his health would be seriously jeopardized by continuing to serve. He served his first term as Ambassador to France during the administration of President Taft and was drafted for the post by President Harding, who made the appointment a personal matter because of the long friendship between the two men resulting from their association in Ohio politics.

VEERING TO FRANCE?

There is a distinct indication of a change in the trend of the London reparations conference. Heretofore throughout the ten days of deadlock the effort of the guiding forces has been in the direction of bringing France into line. Nothing else seemed to matter. Even the concessions to the French point of view that have been suggested have been for the purpose of persuading France to accept the British political attitude, of urging upon France the financial implications of the Dawes program as seen by British and American bankers.

The possibility of veering at all toward the course adopted by France appears never to have been considered. The likelihood that the French manner of doing things might be effective has apparently not suggested itself to any one outside the French delegation itself. Even Herriot seems to have been chafed by the chain put upon him by the fundamental interests of France.

What if, after all, there is something in the French position worth considering, not only from the French point of view, but from that of the Allies themselves, the financiers, Europe as a whole? This question is being asked; and, as the conference achieves its second wind, there appear signs of a shift in the general trend of things.

PUBLIC OPINION EXPRESSING ITSELF SLOWLY

"We must believe in the good sense of the peoples." Thus Secretary Hughes, when interviewed in Paris, expressed his confidence in the final outcome of the attempt of the Allies to engineer a European settlement. It is this faith that is the fundamental axiom of democracy. Yet it appears, at times an elusive mooring post. Was it the good sense of the people of France that overthrew Poincare in the last election? Was it the good sense of the British that put in power a minority Labor Government? Public opinion expresses itself slowly and only upon simple issues. In general, it leaves to leaders the task of detail, of carrying on from day to day, month to month and year to year. This task leaders cannot throw back upon the peoples that employ them; neither can peoples be held responsible for each separate move they make. It is really the interaction of the good sense of peoples and the good sense of leadership that makes for progress and effective decisions under democratic government. Neither element can shirk responsibility.

THE BURIED TALENT

He buried his talent under the ground,
Though the Master had bade him
use it;
In linen he carefully wrapped it round
For he feared to injure or lose it.

Too much he dreaded the Master's scorn
Should it be lost, or His sorrow
If he should find the bright talent worn;
So he buried it there for tomorrow.

He knew that men pay for their joys with pain,
With grief for their days of pleasure;
But not for the good which his soul
might gain
Would he venture the Master's treasure.

The joy of having he wished to know,
But never the hurt of losing;
And he sought to escape such a bitter woe
By the offer of joy refusing.

"No child, no child!" was his feeble cry
"No child at my side to waken,
I should cherish his love; but oh, how I should suffer if he were taken!"

So he buried his talent under the earth,
Though the Master had bade him
use it.
Forgetting that nothing there is of worth
But some day a man must lose it.

AS THEY COME

Not very many of our plans come to us "made to order." Many of us try to build a balanced life—but somehow we fall about as many times as we win.

One of the lessons that we must learn is to take things as they come and complain as little as possible.

The Supreme Fate seems to understand us best, after all.

There is nothing nobler than being a good sport—grinning and bearing for the most part—and passing on.

You to whom the hard lot comes are often the gainer thereby. Many a weak character has been strengthened by no other means than the striking that it has to endure against the flint of adversity and dire discouragement.

Take things as they come, my friend, and try all the time to live the better part.

The well ordered life is the one that takes things in their order—as they come. You can't beat out Fate. He is always just a step or so ahead—no matter how fast you travel.

Play the game, which is to face the easy with the hard and the pleasant with the unpleasant.

Be glad that you are not bereft of gifts. There is always a sky of stars above the dark night of clouds.

Remember that it takes courage just to live—but it's an opportunity!

FORMER ENGINEER AT HOME DIES IN COLUMBUS SUNDAY

G. Herman Gamper, 50, of 337 W. Ninth Avenue, Columbus, for several years chief engineer at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, this city, died at Grant Hospital, Columbus, Sunday morning following an operation for pancreatitis.

Mr. Gamper was an electrical engineer and many power plants in the county were erected by him. He was stationed at the local institution as chief engineer for several years and while here supervised the construction of the power plant at Wilberforce University. He left the O. S. and S. O. Home in 1908.

Mr. Gamper returned to Columbus last Thursday morning from Dublin, Ga. where he had almost completed a plant for the manufacture of wood pulp and bi-products. He complained of abdominal pains and was removed to the hospital Thursday afternoon and the operation performed Friday morning.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock, Tuesday at the home with interment at Green Lawn Cemetery, Columbus.

Mr. Gamper was born in Columbus July 17, 1874 and was educated in the Columbus public schools and at Ohio State University where he was graduated in 1899. He was married in Easton, Pa. to Miss Anna Hess, in 1901 and soon after came to Xenia where he had charge of the engineering department.

Mr. Gamper is survived by his wife, and two children, a son and daughter; his mother, and four sisters.

HIGHER PRICES TO AID FARMER SURVEY SHOWS

Columbus, Aug. 4.—In a survey of the agricultural situation, C. J. West, state-federal crop statistician, declares that Ohio farmers will benefit considerably from increased grain and hog prices, but they will not find themselves in anything like the situation of agriculturalists of Kansas and some other states, where bumper crops and a rising market are expected to offset the losses of several unfavorable years.

The higher range of prices is said to have resulted in a better moral situation and a feeling of confidence among farmers, and may be the forerunner of a general leveling out of values as between agricultural and manufactured products.

The sharp rise in the market prices for wheat, corn and hogs represents proportionately increased returns for those who have these products to sell, but production has been only sporadically good, and, therefore, financial benefits will be extremely scattered, strongly felt in some sections and scarcely noticeable in others, depending entirely upon crop conditions, West says. The only grain crop which is uniformly good over the state is oats, West declares, and oats in Ohio comprise only a minute portion of the cereal production.

Wheat, while good in northwestern Ohio, particularly in Auglaize, Union, Mercer and Van Wert counties, is in much less favorable condition in the northern and northeastern sections, and extremely poor in the central and southern portions of the state, West's statistics show.

"There may be some increase in the money value of the present wheat crop over that of a year ago," West declares, "but there is little doubt that this increase will be less than 25 per cent and probably about 10 per cent. Some farmers in central and southern Ohio, particularly around Washington C. H., have found their wheat so poor that they are not cutting it, believing themselves better off financially if they leave it in the field. This offsets somewhat the general benefits of good crops in other parts of the state."

Corn Yield in Ohio. The corn yield will be good only in scattered districts with some good fields, but much very poor acreage, West says his statistics show. In western Ohio and some parts of the southern section the prospects are fair, he declares, but even in these districts an early frost would do very great damage because of the lateness in planting. In other portions of the state the corn yield will be extremely poor, not only in quantity, but also in quality, West says. The situation apparently has not changed since he made his prediction that the 1924 Ohio corn crop probably would be the poorest in 20 years, he declares, adding that "the best we can hope for is a two-thirds crop."

A reflection of the shortage of corn in the price of hogs, as predicted by some authorities, may be a possibility, West concedes. "If farmers rush their hogs to market because they have no corn with which to fatten them, there is some danger of a reduction in hog prices," he admits. "However, the production of pork in the state probably will be only about 80 per cent of that of a year ago and this may militate against any sharp reduction in prices."

The good crop of hay which has resulted from extremely favorable weather conditions will be of financial benefit in some sections, West believes. Dairy and other farm products, however, have not participated in the activities of the rising market.

MAYOR HARRY FRAHN OF OSBORN MAKING AN ACTIVE BID FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER JOB

Harry E. Frahn—Candidate for County Commissioner.

Harry E. Frahn, candidate for Greene County Commissioner, is the man to whose activity and influence is due, in very large measure, the placing of three and one-half million dollars on the tax duplicates of Greene County.

He is the man who has been at the head of the unique and now successfully accomplished feat of moving the entire village of Osborn from its original site to a location two miles away. Not only has the village been moved but Mr. Frahn has been the leading factor in the securing of two new cement factories for the village that will add a million and a half dollars to Greene County's tax returns.

Mr. Frahn has been prominent in the business affairs of Osborn and the surrounding community for many years but it was not until the town moving project that his activities brought him before the people of Greene County and the country at large. For the last eight years he has served as Mayor of Osborn and for a number of years he has been president of the First National Bank of Osborn. He is the owner of a farm in Bath Township and is the owner of considerable real estate in his town. His varied interests make him particularly well fitted to look after the county's affairs if he is elected to the office of Commissioner.

When the Miami Conservancy bought a tract of 3,000 acres of land, including what was then the site of the village of Osborn, it appeared for a time as though Osborn would be wiped off the map and the business of the little town hopelessly scattered. Such a condition would have meant the loss of a million and a half in taxes to Greene County. Mr. Frahn was the man who stepped to the front, rallied the hesitating and uncertain citizens, and created an enthusiastic sentiment in favor of moving the town to a new site and continuing business in Greene County. He was elected president of the Osborn Removal Company and his capable direction of the complete moving intact of a town of twelve hundred inhabitants, has brought him favorable newspaper and magazine notice throughout the entire country.

Mr. Frahn's activities have not ceased however with the completion of the removal of the town. He has been one of the leading spirits in securing the two new cement factories for the town on its new site. The Southwestern Portland Cement Company and the Wabash Portland Cement Company have both established large plants there and incidentally have added a million and a half to Greene County's tax duplicate.

For the first time Bath Township is now bringing out a candidate for County Commissioner and naturally it has chosen the man who has been most active in preserving and furthering the interests of the township.

Mr. Frahn has been in the grain business in Osborn for thirty years. He is a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of the Knights of Pythias and Junior Order and an all around business man, lodge man and community booster.

He stands on a general platform of good roads for the whole county, a fair and impartial division of the county's improvements and the utmost care in the expending of every tax dollar. Having successfully headed the extraordinary project of moving of Osborn the people of his home township feel that his executive ability has been fully demonstrated and his able conduct of his business and farm interests have proven his general efficiency. If elected he will bring to the affairs of the county the same enthusiasm, judgment and force that have raised him to leadership in his home community.

Health Hints
by the
Father of Physical Culture
BERNARR MACFADDEN

Most alarming facts have recently been brought to light in regard to the question of the proper nourishment of children. Malnutrition and undernourishment are the most serious conditions that can affect a growing child and this crime against childhood is one of the most terrible evils of society.

For the child it means the stunting of growth, impairment of health and lessened resistance to disease, and particularly encourages a predisposition to tuberculosis. In America today, every seventh child dies before the end of the first year, and two of the remaining six die before reaching maturity—and America is perhaps the best-fed nation in the world.

In some of the poorer districts of our large cities, as many as seventy per cent of the children are found to be suffering from malnutrition. Not so many are actually underfed as are improperly fed. Even in the most fashionable schools in well-to-do neighborhoods, forty per cent of the children have been found suffering from malnutrition. All these children had more than enough food placed before them three times a day, but it was not of the proper quality, or the children did not eat enough, because they were pampered, under-exercised, or their appetites ruined by indulgence in improper foods.

As with infants so with other children, their weight is a fair index to their nutritive condition. Once maturity is reached there should be little change in body weight; but the child constantly growing, should be constantly increasing its weight, and any deviation from the normal rate of increase calls for investigation. Hence the importance of knowing what this rate is in the average case.

But the weight does not tell the whole story. If the increase were always that of vital tissue, no further figures would be needed but children can gain weight without actually growing. Similarly if past accumulations of fat are being lost, they may grow while their weight is decreasing.

Children need a variety of natural foods; they tire quickly of the monotonous and prescribed diets. A child is usually told to eat what is set before him. Hence if he does not like this particular food, he does not eat enough.

WIFE AND SON OF FORMER XENIAN HURT IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. Edwin F. Gowdy of 1410 Creighton Avenue, Dayton, was severely bruised and cut and her five-year-old son, Robert, probably internally injured when a motor bus upset Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock on a road between Dayton and Lebanon, near Centerville.

Mrs. Gowdy's husband, Dr. Edwin F. Gowdy, a Dayton dentist, formerly resided in Xenia and is the son of Mrs. Violet Gowdy of West Market Street.

Several Dayton Odd Fellows who were on their way to Lebanon to attend the state lodge meeting were also injured when the bus overturned. The bust hit some loose gravel while travelling at high speed, it is said.

Mrs. Gowdy and her son were rushed to Blairs Hospital where the boy was x-rayed. No bones were broken but he was reported in a critical condition Sunday.

All the passengers of the bus were cut and bruised but Mrs. Gowdy and her son were the only ones requiring medical attention.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES WILL BE ISSUED SOON

New telephone directories for Xenia have not as yet arrived, according to H. W. Cleaver, commercial manager, but are expected to be here and ready for distribution within a week or ten days.

The delay in shipment is thought to be due to the consolidation and unification of the two Dayton exchanges which took place recently and resulted in a distribution of over 27,000 new directories.

The reorganization of the numbering system has gone into effect and nearly 300 local subscribers whose phones are listed at the Xenia exchange will be effected by the reorganization it was said, Monday at the Ohio Bell Telephone Company.

The new directory comprises a total of 2,500 telephones.

Users of Xenia telephones are asked to banish the old numbers from their minds and start afresh with the new directory in order to facilitate service.

NEW MINISTER

London, Aug. 2.—According to information received in government circles today, Senator Belcourt has accepted the Canadian ministry to Washington.

EAST END NEWS

Mr. John Porter, 80, of East Church Street, one of the oldest citizens of Xenia, who has been a "shut-in" for the past six years was surprised Sunday afternoon when the Community Bible School, assisted by Mrs. A. J. Chaffield, held a devotional service at his home. Mrs. Chaffield read the twenty-third Psalm and Mrs. Spencer led in prayer. Mr. Porter thanked all his friends who have been kind to him during his illness and who assisted in the services Sunday.

The Rev. L. C. Ridley, of Wmington, was the week end guest of friends here.

The Effie Carter W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Blackwell.

The Rev. T. J. Smith, pastor of the Zion Baptist Church, Dayton, and Moderator of the Western Union Association remained over and preached at the Third Baptist Church all day Sunday. His Church Choir accompanied him Sunday and sang at the afternoon services. The Rev. Mr. Smith was guest of the Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Howe while in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crosswhite, Washington C. H., Ohio.

George W. Shanklin will address the East End Ladies' Republican Club, Tuesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, August 5, at the M. M. Hall, East Main Street. The public is invited.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells, and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes Venus-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

POSTAL RECEIPTS REMAIN NORMAL

As an example of the soundness of business conditions in Xenia this year as well as last, Postmaster H. E. Rice says that postal receipts for the local office during the month of July, totalled $3,297.01, which is about on a par with the receipts of July of last year.

Almost without exception the majority of post offices in nearby cities declare that postal receipts this year are up to the average, contrary to the general belief that the financial condition of the country is poor it is said.

EPIDEMIC OF SMALL POX MAY YET REACH HERE SAYS DR. GRUBE

Although Xenia and Greene County have so far escaped the malignant form of small pox which is sweeping in epidemic form over the country and in spite of the fact that U. S. Public Health officials believe its spread is being checked, this county may be visited by the disease next winter.

This is the belief of Dr. R. H. Grube, county health commissioner, who is not particularly optimistic over the fact that the epidemic has not made itself apparent here yet. The fact that it is raging in virulent form in Michigan, that there are cases in Pittsburgh and that some cases have even been reported in Northern Ohio is indication, he believes, that this section may yet be visited by the disease.

Every precaution will be taken to check the epidemic as soon as it makes itself apparent here, Dr. Grube says. The disease now being noticed over the country with fatal results, is a much more serious type of small pox than that which has visited Xenia and Greene County in the past, he says.

The type which has been reported here is a mild form of small pox known as the African type, and out of 500 cases reported in the county in the last six years, only one death has resulted, the records show. The malignant form of small pox, has its origin in Northern Europe, particularly in Russia, and often proves fatal in a very short time.

The present epidemic was first noticed three years ago in Kansas City, where out of 300 cases, more than 100 died. This ratio has held good in other places also, Denver, Col., reporting more than 300 deaths out of 1,000 cases. Vaccination is the only preventive for the disease, according to Dr. Grube, although its appearance here will be marked immediately by more rigid quarantining than for the milder form.

The disease, if it reaches this county, will come through people who have been in sections where it has been raging and have been exposed to it. People known to have been exposed to the disease should be vaccinated immediately and cases where the disease has already taken hold, will be isolated as nearly as possible to prevent its spread.

Ex-service men vaccinated during the war, who have been subject to catching the disease, should submit to another vaccine treatment, although in practically all cases of vaccination so far of men vaccinated during the war, the vaccine has not "taken."

RED CROSS MAKES RECORD AT LORAIN

Lorain, O., Aug. 2.—Red Cross nurses and doctors made a remarkable record in caring for the injured in the Lorain disaster. With 350 persons under treatment, not a single case of tetanus has developed, and but a small number of injuries have become infected. Equally remarkable, in the opinion of nurses, is the fact that there has been no epidemic of any kind in the affected area. Since closing of the first-aid stations, maintained for the first weeks following the tornado, the nurses have been engaged in a follow-up of cases discharged from the hospital or under a doctor's care. The city of Lorain has been divided into five districts and the Red Cross nurses, co-operating with other nurses and the board of health, check daily on cases still under treatment and follow the hospital cases into the homes, thus maintaining a high health standard in the tornado district.

Income Shows Decrease.

Toledo, Aug. 2.—The Indiana, Columbus and Eastern Traction company had a total income of $1,503,365.38 for the year ending June 30, 1924, a decrease of $47,807.18, according to the annual report of J. H. McClure, receiver. Because of decreased earnings and increased expenses, the balance of $25,385.47 shown a year ago is replaced by a deficit of $82,809.11, the report shows.

BRINGING UP FATHER

LOVE-OR FAME?

by
VIOLET DARE
Author of "The Half-Time Wife"

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.
DOROTHY LANE goes to New York to visit a friend and try to break into the movies. She soon gets started, and through the friendship of
LAWRENCE FRENCH, a young publicity man, gets an engagement with JOHN SEWARD, "the great lover of the screen," who falls in love with her and asks her to marry him. However, she cares more for French, but is not sure that he cares for her. She has an unfortunate experience with BIRKHORN, one of the big producers, and decides to go back home and give up her career, when French gets her a part in a picture being made in the country by
CARL BANNING. French follows her to the country and proposes to her. Banning persuades them not to be married at once, and French goes back to New York. The star of the production, CRYSTAL MAY, does all that she can to make things unpleasant for Dorothy. Crystal refuses to do a dangerous leap, and Banning gives that scene to Dorothy.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT.

XLVII—MY BIG SCENE.

PHIL CABOT took his place on a rock over at one side, and we went to work. He was supposed to have chased me down the lane leading to the falls—we would take that scene the next day—and now stood only a few feet from me, shaking his fist and shouting at me as he saw that I was going to escape from him.

I had to register fear as I looked at him, and then look even more frightened as I turned to look at the falls. That wasn't acting on my part, either! Then I stepped back on the rocks at the edge of the water, and he rushed toward me. I stumbled then as I turned and rushed into the water again; my knees were shaking so that they wouldn't hold me up, but Banning evidently thought I did it on purpose, for he shouted, "Great!"

Cabot began edging toward me, and that was my cue to take a few steps more into the water and then throw my arms up over my head and jump. We were so near the edge of the falls that although the water covered the rocks underneath, there wasn't enough of it to carry me down with it; I could jump clear of the water and land in the net which had been stretched clear across the precipice down which the water fell. Then a dummy would be thrown over the falls and the camera would get it in the water below.

I took one step, and the water seemed to be clutching at my ankles and dragging me down. I don't believe that Mr. Banning knew how strong the current was there. I hesitated, and, though I could feel my own hands just clawing at my face, I hardly knew what I was doing. All I realized was that I was simply scared to death, but that I must go on.

I took another step, and my legs just seemed to sag under me. I knew that if I fell I'd be swept over the falls just as sure as anything. I forced myself to step once more, which brought me to the edge of the falls—and then I looked down, the one thing Carl Banning had warned me not to do.

The water was sweeping over the edge of the falls in a cool, even wall. Then, when it got down a little way, it began to break into spray, and went dashing down into the pool below in a swirling, foaming mass.

I looked up again and jumped.

And how it roared! I remembered how I'd listened to it just a few nights before, after Larry and I had been telling each other that nothing could ever separate us again. It had mocked me then—and I wondered if the fear I'd felt that night was a prophecy of my being swept over the falls.

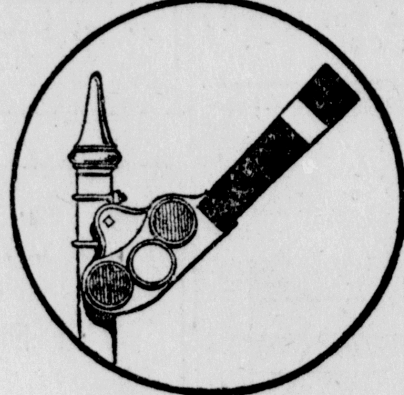

All that happened in just a few moments. I was bewildered, yet my thoughts raced like the water in the pool so far below me. Then I heard Phil Cabot exclaim, "My God, she'll be killed!" and Carl Banning's crisp voice came to me, curt and commanding:

"Jump, Dorothy—into the middle of the net—that's great stuff, but jump now."

That shout of Banning's saved me. That and the fact that the camera was grinding away just as steadily as if I hadn't been in danger of being killed. The sound of the turning camera handle seemed to assure me that nothing could happen, I suppose because such thrilling things are shown on the screen, and yet you sit back comfortably and realize that the actors were really safe.

I looked up again from the green whirlpool below, and jumped squarely into the net. It seemed years before I struck it, and then it gave so under me that for a moment I thought that it wasn't holding, and that I was falling with it into the pool. But it held, and after the first awful shock was over I came to myself again.

U. S. WILL ACT FOR ENGLAND IN PROTEST OF SLAYING IN MEXICO

TRIAL OF LOEB AND LEOPOLD TO LAST WEEKS YET

State Strengthens Its List Of Alienists For Further Battle

Criminal Court, Chicago, Aug. 4.—A fresh mass of evidence collected by medical scientists to explain why two brilliant young college students of good education and families would deliberately kidnap and murder a 14 year old boy "just for the thrill of it," was spread upon the records of Judge John R. Caverly's court today by the lawyers who are seeking to save Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb from hanging for the slaying of little Bobby Franks.

The state spent the two weeks building a "mountain of evidence" upon which the blithe young college students should hang. The defense plunged headlong into the task of building its own "mountain of evidence" as to why they should not hang.

"Mentally sick" and "queer" are the foundation stones for this defense mountain.

Dr. William Healy, of Boston, one of the pioneers in establishment of the study of mentality as applied to crime, particularly in adolescent young offenders, was the psychiatrist selected by the defense counsel today to show that "Dickie" and "Babe" are queer, that they were "mentally sick," when they bashed in Bobby's head with a cold chisel and then hid his body.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—The lawyers and the scientists seeking to save Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb from the gallows for the sanguinary kidnaping and murder of little "Bobby" Franks completed plans today to build the defense of the two dapper collegians "a real defense."

Encouraged by the success that has thus far attended their efforts to submit "evidence in mitigation" to Judge John R. Caverly, the lawyers now plan to put on at least six alienists of national repute to testify to the "mental sickness" of the slayers and then to follow these up with a score of friends and relatives who will further wear out the doctors that the boys have been "queer" from boyhood.

This evidence will be in mitigation—designed to show Judge Caverly that no normal minds conceived and executed the plot that took a 14 year old boy from a busy street, bashed in his head with a cold chisel, poured hydrochloric acid on his face to destroy the features and then topped it all off by stuffing his naked body down an isolated drain pipe—"just for a thrill."

The net result is going to be, according to the authorities, that this murder trial of the century, as it is called, is going to hold down the boards in Judge Caverly's court for several weeks yet.

Odds can be obtained from nearly any court attaché or lawyer that "Babe" or "Dickie" will still be in the Cook County jail six months from now.

Some put it at a year.

At one time the defense had planned to rest its case entirely upon the testimony of three alienists. But that has now been changed. Present plans call for possibly thirty witnesses for the defense, these to be followed by the alienists who have been engaged by the state to refute the testimony of the defense doctors.

General Pershing Back for Defense Day.

GEN. J. J. PERSHING

General John J. Pershing, Commander-in-Chief of the A. E. F., has returned from France, where he headed a commission that examined American graveyards, to complete the final plans for "Defense Day," September 12, which has aroused much comment.

HUGHES THINKS DAWES PLAN IS TO BE ADOPTED

Secretary of State Expresses Confidence In Berlin Statement

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes declared today that his European visit has strengthened his confidence that the Dawes reparations plan will be adopted.

"I believe we have turned the corner on the road to normal conditions," said Secretary Hughes in a statement to the American correspondents. "The skies are brightening."

"I believe that prompt execution of the Dawes plan is vital to the reconstruction of the world's peace. I am hopeful we are upon the threshold of a new era of peace and prosperity."

The entire German press, including even the most hot-headed of the nationalist newspapers, welcomed Secretary Hughes as "the spiritual father of the Dawes plan."

They pointed out that Secretary Hughes directed the way to the Dawes plan in his New Haven speech more than a year ago.

"That speech," commented one newspaper, "was the first impetus to a peaceful and reasonable solution of the reparations problem."

It was recalled that Secretary Hughes is the first high statesman of an "enemy" country to visit Germany in ten years.

The only discord in the welcome came from the communist newspaper Rote Fahne (The Red Flag), which attacked the government, for "officially receiving the American foreign minister, who is agent for American bankers."

INTEREST ON STATE MONEY INCREASES

Columbus, Aug. 4.—State Treasurer

Day collected $269,204.13 for the quarter ending July 31 from 400 banks throughout Ohio, which are known as inactive depositories, as interest on state money deposits. This is several thousand dollars more than was collected during the preceding quarter ending April 30, at which time the collections amounted to $265,661.90. In addition to this sum coming from the inactive banks, approximately $50,000 will be collected from the Columbus banks, where the active accounts are kept. The rates continue to remain high despite these days of cheap money, due to the fact that they were made for a two-year period by the banks themselves at the competitive bidding held in March, 1923.

BODY IS FOUND IN FREIGHT BOX CAR

Cleveland, O., Aug. 4.—The body of Harry Animus, 30, of Detroit, was found in a freight car at the Nickel Plate freight depot here today. A deep gash in the back of the head at first led police to believe he had been murdered but later this theory was discarded and it was believed that while looking from a door of the car he had been struck on the head by a pole.

Animus, according to papers found in his pocket, had been working for the Ford Motor Company, and had been visiting relatives in Buffalo. The car in which he was found cleared Conneaut at 2 o'clock this morning.

MURDER CAUSES WIDENING GULF IN RELATIONS

American Charge d' Affaires to File Action For Britain

Mexico City, Aug. 4.—Mexico made every effort today to bridge the widening gulf between this country and England over the killing Saturday night of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, a British subject, by agrarians in Puebla state, near the Evans ranch.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Arthur H. S. Schoenfeld, American charge d' affaires at Mexico City, acting for the British government, will present a formal protest to the Mexican government against the slaying of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, a British subject, it was learned here today.

Diplomatic relations do not exist between Great Britain and Mexico and in view of the recent departure of the British charge d' affaires from Mexico, British official business in Mexico City has been handled through the American embassy.

London, Aug. 4.—The British foreign office today asked the United States to investigate the killing of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, a British subject in Mexico, and also to "protect all Great Britain's rights in this affair."

London, Aug. 4.—Deep indignation was expressed today by British newspapers over the assassination of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, a British subject in Mexico. It is expected that Premier Ramsay MacDonald will demand full reparation from the Mexican government.

The British foreign office is expected to make formal protest to Mexico City within forty-eight hours.

BRYAN CRITICISED BY SENATOR REED

Kansas City, Aug. 4.—United States

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri issued a statement here in which he favored the national defense day program. He characterized the refusal of Governor Bryan of Nebraska and other state officials to co-operate in the defense day program as a blunder, saying he would prefer to accept the judgment of General Pershing to that of Governor Bryan and others as to any military maneuver.

Reed continued: "Every citizen possessing common sense knows that the day may come when some great power or combination of great powers may attack the United States. The sole purpose of the defense day program is to develop the best possible plan for the mobilization of our resources, so that nations will hesitate to attack us and, should they do so, to repel that attack with the least possible loss. The very object of the experiment is to discover these errors in advance, instead of waiting to learn them on fields strewn thick with the corpses of American boys."

DAVIS MAY ATTEND STATE CONVENTION

Washington, Aug. 4.—John W.

Davis, Democratic candidate for the presidency, may attend the Democratic state convention at Columbus and deliver there one of the national addresses of his campaign. Clem Shaver, Democratic national chairman, said there is a possibility Mr. Davis may choose Columbus as the place of delivering a set address he has in mind to deliver after his formal notification and his speech of acceptance. George White of Ohio has been in New York during the last few days and it is understood he has strongly urged Mr. Davis to attend the Ohio state convention and make that the occasion of the speech which he expects to make directly to the farmers of the nation.

MILK BOTTLE IS EFFECTIVE WEAPON

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 4.—A quart

bottle of milk is an effective weapon if aimed accurately, according to Christian Eppler, who reported to police Sunday that two bandits had attempted to hold up his milk wagon. Eppler hurled the bottle at the one who was pointing a pistol, catching him on the nose. The gunmen fled.

EX-SENATOR DEAD

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 4.—Charles

Elroy Townsend, for twelve years U. S. Senator from Michigan, is dead. Mr. Townsend was 68 years old. He was defeated for re-election to the senate by former Governor W. N. Ferris, Democrat, in 1922.

Mrs. Lydig Hoyt

Julia Hoyt is home again, seeking Broadway's spotlight. Having shaken Major Lydig Hoyt's matrimonial yoke in Paris, she returned to New York as "Miss Hoyt," more determined than ever to make a name for herself on the stage. She secured the divorce rather than give up the stage for society, into which her millionaire husband wished to force her. She denied Paris reports that she was soon to marry Jascha Heifetz, world-famous musician.

TWO KILLED IN SECOND FATAL WRECK ON ROAD

Exploding Engine Results In Death of Trainmen Sunday.

Navarre, O., Aug. 4.—Two men were fatally hurt early Sunday morning near Navarre in the second railroad wreck within a week on the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad in the Canton district.

Both men died in the Massillon city hospital.

The dead: William Ballantine, 46, Massillon, engineer.

Clyde Creeks, Rosedale, fireman. Two others were injured. They are: Jeff Morris, engineer on the second engine, arm and leg fractured, in the Massillon city hospital.

Ed. Gibson, fireman, burns and lacerations.

Two engines were doubleheading on a long freight between Marmon Junction and Bolivar, near Navarre, at 3:30 Sunday morning, when the first engine exploded, blowing out the head of the engine and hurling the second engine from the tracks.

Ballantine was killed last week while the train he was handling crashed, suffering from severe burns, received last night when fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barns on the Huron county fair grounds, burning sixteen race horses to death.

The entire front of the engine was blown out and pieces of it scattered on the fields for a distance of several hundred yards.

SIXTEEN HORSES BURNED TO DEATH; TRAINER INJURED

Norwalk, O., Aug. 4.—Dave Jackson, of Greenwich, O., was in a hospital here today suffering from severe burns, received last night when fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barns on the Huron county fair grounds, burning sixteen race horses to death.

Jackson, asleep with other attendants in the barn, attempted to lead the horses to safety. He brought out one animal, but when he returned to the barn his escape was cut off by a heavy wall of flames. He jumped through a window. Other attendants had their clothes partially burned from their bodies in escaping from the barn.

The horses were here to take part in the racing at the county fair, scheduled for late this month.

Included in the horses destroyed were Donna Dillon, Rejeet, Worthy Boy, Irma J. Jack Wines, Mokoconia and Barney Delight.

ONE STROKE OF STEAMER'S CRANK SHAFT LAY BETWEEN 400 PEOPLE AND DISASTER

New York, Aug. 4.—The four hundred excursionists who were stranded on the mud flats, a mile off Old Ferry Point, while aboard the steamer Victor today learned that only a stroke of the crank shaft lay between them and a horrible disaster. A downward instead of an upward stroke of the shaft when it broke would have ripped a hole in the bottom of the ship.

When the piston broke, there was a terrific crash and the shutting down of the engines plunged the vessel in darkness. Panic was averted by the calmness of the officers who quieted the passengers.

The Victor was returning from Rye Beach to the Battery. A patrol launch and several motor boats in the vicinity rescued 200 passengers from the stranded vessel. The steam Macom removed the remaining excursionists.

INCREASE IN CRIME SHOWN IN TEN YEARS

Clemency Board Report Shows Prison Capacity Raised

Columbus, Aug. 4.—Crime has increased enormously within the past 10 years and the combined population of the three major penal institutions in Ohio has substantially doubled within that time.

This is revealed in the report of the state board of clemency for the fiscal year ending July 1.

Auto theft swells the population of penal institutions by hundreds now. It furnishes the means of getaway in robbery and adds to that of other forms of crime, the report says, and continues: "Then there is the psychology of war. For years we were reading of human slaughter and thinking in terms of bloodshed, violence and arms. Human life was cheapened in the eyes of the susceptible immature. Even prohibition is not an unmixed blessing. Now we have 125 violators of prohibition statutes in the penitentiary—two years ago we had none. The late enormous trek of southern colored men has had its menace. It is reflected in the population of the Ohio penitentiary."

Recommendation for executive clemency has been made by the board in 73 cases during the fiscal year, and, with one exception, Governor Donahy followed the recommendation of the board. Each one of the pardoned men is "going straight," and not one has been either reported for violation of his parole or been returned, the report says.

Defending its action in recommending executive clemency to Governor Donahy in so many cases, the board says: "This board has recommended to Governor Donahy during the past year 37 pardon and commutation cases. Save one, executive clemency has followed in every case. This may seem like a large number of pardons. It is. But it should also be remembered, in this connection, that the population of the Ohio penitentiary on June 30, 1924, the end of the fiscal year, was 2,877, almost twice the number 10 years ago.

The number of hearings for parole during the past year was 2,395, as compared with 4,398 during the previous year. This reduction, the report declares, was by reason of the Norwalk law. No fees are charged or accepted in behalf of prisoners and the law directs that an attorney or other person shall appear before the board of clemency in behalf of any prisoner seeking his freedom."

The parole honor system is defended by the board, and strong praise is given Warden Thomas for his help in this matter. The men are tested in various degrees by the warden and the test of the honor roll qualifies the prisoners for places on the monthly parole docket.

During the past year paroles were granted to 241 inmates of the penitentiary, conditioned that they leave Ohio, and to 158 inmates of the Mansfield reformatory, and 25 of the women's reformatory at Marysville, on the same condition, making a total of 424. None of these was born in Ohio. The number of parole violators returned during the year was 255, of whom only 57 were paroled by the present board. Out of more than 500 applications for pardons and commutation of sentence during the year, more than 428 were rejected.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 4.—Primary returns show that Senator A. O. Stanley, Democrat, won the nomination for senator over his opponent, John Junior Howe.

Fred M. Sackett of Louisville won the Republican nomination for senator. His majority over B. J. Bethum of Lexington may exceed 20,000.

John W. Langley of Pikeville was nominated on the Republican ticket to succeed himself in congress. Congressman Langley, who appealed from his federal court conviction of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, made his campaign on what he chose to call a "vindication" of his record.

Five Democratic and five Republican candidates for congress were unopposed. Other congressmen who had opposition were renominated. The successful candidates include Congressman Langley, Republican, Pikeville; M. H. Thatcher, Republican, Louisville; Fred M. Vinson, Democrat, Louisville; R. Y. Thomas, Democrat, Central City; J. M. Robison, Republican, Barbourville; Virgil Chapman, Jr., Democrat, Paris; Sam McMeekin, Democrat, Louisville.

SHOOTING AFFAIR OVER GIRL ENDS IN DEATH AND ARREST

Hagerstown, Md., Aug. 4.—Charles

Ottelberger, 35, is dead and James Wilson is under arrest here today, charged with murder as the aftermath of a shooting affair last night resulting from the rivalry of Wilson and John Zimmerman for the attentions of the same girl.

Zimmerman and Wilson came to the shooting affair, a bystander, fell fatally wounded with a bullet in his abdomen.

His wife was standing by his side and he was holding his baby in his arms when he was shot.

WADE ELIMINATED AS HIS PLANE IS WRECKED ON TRIP

Smith Joins Nelson at Iceland Without Mishap—Wade On Board Richmond Is Broken-Hearted At His Failure

On board United States Cruiser Richmond, in the North Atlantic, August 4.—(By radio to I. N. S.) Lieutenant Leigh Wade, one of the three United States army pilots, who set out to fly around the world stood broken and nearly in tears at day watching the disabled airplane daywatching the disabled airplane which he had piloted more than twenty thousand miles.

The wrecked plane drifted slowly towards the rocks of Faroe Islands, while the aviator with a sad face, looked on. The plane—the Boston—was a total wreck, by the time the cruiser had passed out of sight. As the Richmond drew away Wade turned with stoic courage, written upon his face.

CROSSING CRASH CLAIMS TWO AND THIRD IS SERIOUS

Dunkirk, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Two persons were killed and two injured, one perhaps fatally in a railroad crossing here today when an automobile was struck by the first section of the Twentieth Century Limited.

Russell Faust, five years old, was instantly and his mother, Mrs. Herman Faust, 27 years old, of Lakewood, Ohio, owner of the car, was slightly injured.

The other victim of the accident is Russell Quibell, 18, of Albion, Mich., who died of internal injuries shortly after reaching the hospital.

John Devers, driver of the car, is in the hospital here and his condition is believed serious. Devers, who is 18 years old, was driving to Cleveland with Mrs. Faust, who had been visiting at Lancaster, Pa.

According to Mrs. Faust, he picked up young Quibell along the road and were giving him a lift to Cleveland.

THOUGH INDICTED LANGLEY IS NAMED AGAIN FOR POSITION

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 4.—Primary returns show that Senator A. O. Stanley, Democrat, won the nomination for senator over his opponent, John Junior Howe.

Fred M. Sackett of Louisville won the Republican nomination for senator. His majority over B. J. Bethum of Lexington may exceed 20,000.

John W. Langley of Pikeville was nominated on the Republican ticket to succeed himself in congress. Congressman Langley, who appealed from his federal court conviction of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, made his campaign on what he chose to call a "vindication" of his record.

While the planes of the two army lieutenants bobbed at anchor in the harbor they were carefully overhauled by the mechanics. The harbor is guarded by a rock-bound coast.

The airman expect to depart on their flight towards Greenland tomorrow or next day if the weather conditions are favorable.

Smith was deeply regretful over the disaster which overcame Lieutenant Leigh Wade, the third United States flyer, whose machine was wrecked 115 miles from Kirkwall, Scotland.

"I am sorry his plane was wrecked, but I am happy that Wade himself escaped injury," said Smith. "According to the news received here Wade was compelled to ride in a choppy sea for sometime after he alighted before he was picked up."

A snub nosed English trawler, the Ruby, was with the Billingsly when the American aviator and his mechanic were secured. The Ruby first took the plane, "The Boston," in tow and wandered with her for considerable distance before the Billingsly could take the aviator and his companion on board.

The Billingsly while on the way to Wade's assistance flashed the ominous message:

"Wade down."

Smith, who had been accompanying Wade, saw that the latter's plane was in trouble. He veered from his course and dropped a weighted bag containing a note for the Billingsly.

Bluejackets on the destroyer lost no time in ripping it open and immediately the destroyer was steaming at full speed for the scene of the trouble. Observers upon the destroyer had been keeping watch upon the airplane Boston but were not aware that the motor had gone bad and was giving trouble.

Nelson has completely recovered from his arduous flight alone on Saturday and is anxious to continue.

Nelson said that he flew through forty miles of thick fog after leaving the Orkneys but after that the majority of the trip to Iceland was made in clear atmosphere.

"I could not see the other ships, and I did not know what had happened," said the Swedish American. "I kept on, hoping for the best. The sea was comparatively calm and conditions appeared to be most favorable for the flight."

The United States cruisers and destroyers which are patrolling the route of the airman are taking up new stations.

It is not yet definitely known whether Wade will continue in another machine or will abandon the ready completed.

Kirkwall, Scotland, Aug. 4.—The machine of Lieutenant Leigh Wade, one of three United States round the world flyers is a complete wreck, according to a wireless dispatch received here today from the U. S. S. Richmond.

Wade's plane was wrecked when it fell into the ocean when he was trying to fly from here to Iceland. He had about 115 miles of this leg of his journey when the accident occurred.

Lieutenant Wade and his mechanic, Sergeant Ogden are on board the Richmond which is proceeding to Kirkwall, Iceland.

Wade was heartbroken over his inability to join Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith and Lieutenant Erik Nelson, who have successfully negotiated the hop from Kirkwall to Iceland, Nelson got there Saturday without mishap, Smith tried to make it Saturday, had to turn back, but made the journey Sunday.

Wade had travelled about 19,000 miles when forced to give up the by the accident.

Smith and Wade left the Orkneys Sunday morning at 9:17 o'clock. Wade's machine developed engine trouble when he was about half way to the Faroe Islands, and he was forced to alight.

The water was rough and the machine was broken to pieces.

Smith kept on, encountering thick fog, which made it doubtful if he could find Hornafjord. He arrived safely at 1:37 o'clock.

The destroyer Billingsly was keeping careful watch upon Wade and went to his assistance as soon as the plane went down.

First news of Wade's trouble was flashed from wireless to Hornafjord. Hornafjord, Iceland, Aug. 4.—(By Radio Aug. 4.)—Lieutenant Erik Nelson and Lieutenant Lowell Smith, two of the United States army around the world aviators were here safe and sound today awaiting favorable weather conditions for their hop-off.

While the planes of the two army lieutenants bobbed at anchor in the harbor they were carefully overhauled by the mechanics. The harbor is guarded by a rock-bound coast.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

WHAT IS A "BUCKET SHOP?"

Just what are "bucket shops?"

Just what are "bucket shops?" erage houses which offer "inducements" to customers which legitimate brokers cannot offer such as lower commissions, reduced interest charges and lower margins. This is possible because their transactions are not genuine. The bucket shops have no margin to maintain at the bank, no interest to pay on loans, and no commissions to other brokers or costs of handling securities—because they handle no securities.

Their business is to bet against the customer by book entries, instead of executing his orders as broker. Most inexperienced speculators are "bulls" so that in a long declining market the bucket shops win the bet, gobbling up customers' money as profit. When the market turns, the bucket shops lose the bet and they are by the dozen. Whatever happens, the customer loses.

The bucket shops do not wish to exist on the commissions of a broker—they are after the cash capital of their customers.

DISH MITZI—News From All Corners Of This Picnic. By Jay V. Jay

Here's Mitzi looking very much a part of the landscape in a yellow crepe de chine frock with Irish lace trimming. You will notice that she is offering the sandwich to some one across the way—who happens to be Bill. The Goofer may go hungry, but he really doesn't care so long as he sits next to Mitzi.

Dad and Aunt Sofia occupy a very commodious corner. Dad is going after a squirmly olive and can't seem to stab it because he is looking at Aunt Sofia's voile dress with a lace collar. It's a cool green and the pleated skirt is very graceful. It's quite likely that Dad will upset the thermos bottle in a minute.

Eleanor is tempting the canine taste with deviled ham. Her affection for this would-be chow is entirely distant. Let him approach within pawing-reach of her frock and her love for dogs will vanish. No wonder, though, for her frock is of white linen and has embroidered cherries over it. It's in the tunic straight front style.

Polly and Bill are seemingly engrossed in the problem of the tennis finals. Bill is not too occupied to sneak a glance over his shoulder to see what Mitzi is doing. It's rather a triumph to find her looking his way or, dreadful thought, is it only at Polly's new voile dress which is tucked from neck to hem. A chap never knows!

HERRICK MAY RETIRE SOON, DUE TO HEALTH

Retirement of Myron T. Herrick as American Ambassador to France may be expected soon, according to reliable information reaching Washington. The condition of Mr. Herrick's health which has been failing rapidly, has convinced him that he cannot continue the arduous duties of his post.

The Ambassador's views, it is understood, were communicated to Secretary Hughes when the Secretary of State arrived in Europe, and it is probable his resignation shortly will be in the hands of President Coolidge, to take effect at the convenience of the Administration. It is not unlikely that Mr. Herrick will be importuned to stay on as long as he is able in view of the situation in Europe growing out of efforts to adjust the reparations problem.

No official confirmation of the report, either from the White House or the State Department, was forthcoming but at the same time no effort was made to deny that Ambassador Herrick's physical condition had been the cause of serious concern both to himself and his friends.

Mr. Herrick will be seventy years old in October and, with the exception of a short leave in 1923, has been on the job in Paris since his appointment by President Harding early in 1921. When Mr. Herrick was in the United States in the spring of 1923, there were rumors that he would not return to Paris, but those were dissipated when he sailed for his post shortly before President Harding started on his ill-fated Alaska trip.

Mr. Herrick's attachment for the Paris diplomatic post is well known and friends here say that he would not think of retiring unless he considered that his health would be seriously jeopardized by continuing to serve. He served his first term as Ambassador to France during the administration of President Taft and was drafted for the post by President Harding, who made the appointment a personal matter because of the long friendship between the two men resulting from their association in Ohio politics.

VEERING TO FRANCE?

There is a distinct indication of a change in the trend of the London reparations conference. Heretofore throughout the ten days of deadlock the effort of the guiding forces has been in the direction of bringing France into line. Nothing else seemed to matter. Even the concessions to the French point of view that have been suggested have been for the purpose of persuading France to accept the British political attitude, of urging upon France the financial implications of the Dawes program as seen by British and American bankers.

The possibility of veering at all toward the course adopted by France appears never to have been considered. The likelihood that the French manner of doing things might be effective has apparently not suggested itself to any one outside the French delegation itself. Even Herriot seems to have been chafed by the chain put upon him by the fundamental interests of France.

What if, after all, there is something in the French position worth considering, not only from the French point of view, but from that of the Allies themselves, the financiers, Europe as a whole? This question is being asked; and, as the conference achieves its second wind, there appear signs of a shift in the general trend of things.

PUBLIC OPINION EXPRESSING ITSELF SLOWLY

"We must believe in the good sense of the peoples." Thus Secretary Hughes, when interviewed in Paris, expressed his confidence in the final outcome of the attempt of the Allies to engineer a European settlement. It is this faith that is the fundamental axiom of democracy. Yet it appears, at times an elusive mooring post. Was it the good sense of the people of France that overthrew Poincare in the last election? Was it the good sense of the British that put in power a minority Labor Government? Public opinion expresses itself slowly and only upon simple issues. In general, it leaves to leaders the task of detail, of carrying on from day to day, month to month and year to year. This task leaders cannot throw back upon the peoples that employ them; neither can peoples be held responsible for each separate move they make. It is really the interaction of the good sense of peoples and the good sense of leadership that makes for progress and effective decisions under democratic government. Neither element can shirk responsibility.

THE BURIED TALENT

He buried his talent under the ground, Though the Master had bade him use it;

In linen he carefully wrapped it round For he feared to injure or lose it.

Too much he dreaded the Master's scorn Should it be lost, or His sorrow

If he should find the bright talent worn; So he buried it there for tomorrow.

He knew that men pay for their joys with pain,

With grief for their days of pleasure; But not for the good which his soul might gain Would he venture the Master's measure.

The joy of having he wished to know,

But never the hurt of losing; And he sought to escape such a bitter woe By the offer of joy refusing.

"No child, no child!" was his feeble cry,

"No child at my side to waken, I should cherish his love; but oh, how I Should suffer if he were taken!"

So he buried his talent under the earth,

Though the Master had bade him use it. Forgetting that nothing there is of worth But some day a man must lose it.

PARTY TAKES 110 MILE CANOE TRIP

A party of youths in charge of Robert H. Kingsbury, former Scoutmaster of Xenia Boy Scouts, left Monday morning on a 110 mile canoe trip down the Little Miami and Ohio Rivers to Madison, Ind.

The party included Mr. Kingsbury, Harold Rickles, George Prugh, Max Marshall, Harold Jordan, George Perrell, Edward Sayre, Phil Santmyer, Henry Eavey and Arch Maxwell.

Some of the party camped near Trebeins Sunday night, and the canoe party left about 6 o'clock Monday morning. Two campers are assigned to each of five canoes, and the party expects to make twenty miles a day on the Miami and thirty or forty miles a day on the Ohio. They will return by river steamer to Cincinnati and thence home by train, after being on the trip a little more than a week.

Last year practically the same party took a canoe trip to Cincinnati.

Forest Fire Spreading.

Boise, Idaho, Aug. 2.—The forest fire which started near Big Eddy, on the east side of the Payette river, is spreading with alarming rapidity and getting beyond control, according to a message from the fire dispatcher at Cascade. The fire was started by sparks from a locomotive. Two hundred men are engaged in fighting the fire under handicaps, and three of the crew have been injured, one by a rolling rock and two by falling trees.

Milk Price Boosted.

Cleveland, Aug. 2.—Milk price here was increased 2 cents to 14 cents a quart. The increase is due to a boost in price to the farmers. Distributors raised the price from $2.50 to $3.30 for 100 pounds of milk sold in bottles.

Nut-Raisin Sandwiches: Put one-half cup of chopped seedless raisins over the fire with water barely to cover and stew till tender. Thicken this while hot with one tablespoon of cornstarch, then remove from range and cool. Add to it one-half cup of any kind of chopped nut meats, sweetened with one tablespoon of sugar, then spread on any kind of bread, putting two slices together. These make very nourishing sandwiches for either the home table or picnic use.

Mix together one quart of cooked macaroni, one cupful of the meat, one cup of either uncooked diced tomatoes, or the more solid parts of canned tomatoes, one cooked green sweet pepper minced, teaspoon of salt, a little pepper, and with seeds removed. Turn all into a buttered baking dish and let bake in a moderate oven for one and one-half hours, then sprinkle top with bread crumbs, dot with butter, and slip back into a slightly hotter oven till crumbs are brown. Serve hot.

Cauliflower a la Marie: Separate one large boiled cauliflower into small flowerets and add to them the beaten yolks of two eggs which have been mixed with one-fourth cup of olive oil, one-half cup of vinegar, one teaspoon of chopped parsley, one teaspoon of sugar, one-half teaspoon of dry mustard and a pinch of pepper. Heat all together either in a chafing dish or in a saucepan (on the range) and when very hot serve in small individual dishes or ramekins.

Today's Talks

AS THEY COME

Not very many of our plans come to us "made to order." Many of us try to build a balanced life—but somehow we fall about as many times as we win.

One of the lessons that we must learn is to take things as they come and complain as little as possible.

The Supreme Fate seems to understand us best, after all.

There is nothing nobler than being a good sport—grinning and bearing for the most part—and passing on.

You to whom the hard lot comes are often the gainer thereby. Many a weak character has been strengthened by no other means than the striking that it has to endure against the flint of adversity and dire discouragement.

Take things as they come, my friend, and try all the time to live the better part.

The well ordered life is the one that takes things in their order—as they come. You can't beat out Fate. He is always just a step or so ahead—no matter how fast you travel.

Play the game, which is to face the easy with the hard and the pleasant with the unpleasant.

Be glad that you are not bereft of gifts. There is always a sky of stars above the dark night of clouds.

Remember that it takes courage just to live—but it's an opportunity!

Slayer Sentenced.

Spartanburg, S. C., Aug. 2.—The jury in the case of Clarence Blatok, 24, charged with the murder of his father, John Blatok, brought in a verdict of guilty with recommendation of mercy. He was sentenced to confinement on the public works of the county or in the state penitentiary for life. Blatok, killed his father, beating his head into a pulp with a rock, June 2, in a quarrel over the younger Blatok's wife.

FORMER ENGINEER AT HOME DIES IN COLUMBUS SUNDAY

G. Herman Gamper, 50, of 337 W. Ninth Avenue, Columbus, for several years chief engineer at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, this city, died at Grant Hospital, Columbus, Sunday morning following an operation for pancreatitis.

Mr. Gamper was an electrical engineer and many power plants in the county were erected by him. He was stationed at the local institution as chief engineer for several years and while here supervised the construction of the power plant at Wilberforce University. He left the O. S. and S. O. Home in 1908.

Mr. Gamper returned to Columbus last Thursday morning from Dublin, Ga. where he had almost completed a plant for the manufacture of wood pulp and bi-products. He complained of abdominal pains and was removed to the hospital Thursday afternoon and the operation performed Friday morning.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock, Tuesday at the home with interment at Green Lawn Cemetery, Columbus.

Mr. Gamper was born in Columbus July 17, 1874 and was educated in the Columbus public schools and at Ohio State University where he was graduated in 1899. He was married in 1901, soon after came to Xenia, where he had charge of the engineering department.

He was survived by his wife, and two children, a son and daughter; his mother, and four sisters.

HIGHER PRICES TO AID FARMER SURVEY SHOWS

Columbus, Aug. 4.—In a survey of the agricultural situation, C. J. West, state-federal crop statistician, declares that Ohio farmers will benefit considerably from increased grain and hog prices, but they will not find themselves in anything like the situation of agriculturalists of Kansas and some other states, where bumper crops and a rising market are expected to offset the losses of several unfavorable years.

The higher range of prices is said to have resulted in a better moral situation and a feeling of confidence among farmers, and may be the forerunner of a general leveling out of values as between agricultural and manufactured products.

The sharp rise in the market prices for wheat, corn and hogs represents proportionately increased returns for those who have these products to sell, but production has been only sporadically good, and, therefore, financial benefits will be extremely scattered, strongly felt in some sections and scarcely noticeable in others, depending entirely upon crop conditions, West says. The only grain crop which is uniformly good over the state is oats, West declares, and oats in Ohio comprise only a minute portion of the cereal production.

Wheat, while good in northwestern Ohio, particularly in Auglaize, Union, Mercer and Van Wert counties, is in much less favorable condition in the northern and northeastern sections, and extremely poor in the central and southern portions of the state, West's statistics show.

"There may be some increase in the money value of the present wheat crop over that of a year ago," West declares, "but there is little doubt that this increase will be less than 25 per cent and probably about 10 per cent. Some farmers in central and southern Ohio, particularly around Washington C. H., have found their wheat so poor that they are not cutting it, believing themselves better off financially if they leave it in the field. This offsets somewhat the general benefits of good crops in other parts of the state."

Corn Yield in Ohio.
The corn yield will be good only in scattered districts with some good fields, but much very poor acreage, West says his statistics show. In western Ohio and some parts of the southern section the prospects are fair, he declares, but even in these districts an early frost would do very great damage because of the lateness in planting. In other portions of the state the corn yield will be extremely poor, not only in quantity, but also in quality, West says. The situation apparently has not changed since he made his prediction that the 1924 Ohio corn crop probably would be the poorest in 20 years, he declares, adding that "the best we can hope for is a two-thirds crop."

A reflection of the shortage of corn in the price of hogs, as predicted by some authorities, may be a possibility, West concedes. "If farmers rush their hogs to market because they have no corn with which to fatten them, there is some danger of a reduction in hog prices," he admits. "However, the production of pork in the state probably will be only about 80 per cent of that of a year ago and this may militate against any sharp reduction in prices."

The good crop of hay which has resulted from extremely favorable weather conditions will be of financial benefit in some sections, West believes. Dairy and other farm products, however, have not participated in the activities of the rising market.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 4.—His neck broken when his auto overturned in a rut in the road, near Huron, O., yesterday, Samuel C. Conner, of Cleveland, helped his wife and three children out of the machine, then fell over dead.

MAYOR HARRY FRAHN OF OSBORN MAKING AN ACTIVE BID FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER JOB

Harry E. Frahn—Candidate for County Commissioner.

Harry E. Frahn, candidate for Greene County Commissioner, is the man to whose activity and influence is due, in very large measure, the placing of three and one-half million dollars on the tax duplicates of Greene County.

He is the man who has been at the head of the unique and now successfully accomplished feat of moving the entire village of Osborn from its original site to a location two miles away. Not only has the village been moved but Mr. Frahn has been the leading factor in the securing of two new cement factories for the village that will add a million and a half dollars to Greene County's tax returns.

Mr. Frahn has been prominent in the business affairs of Osborn and the surrounding community for many years but it was not until the town moving project that his activities brought him before the people of Greene County and the country at large. For the last eight years he has served as Mayor of Osborn and for a number of years he has been president of the First National Bank of Osborn. He is the owner of a farm in Bath Township and is the owner of considerable real estate in his town. His varied interests make him particularly well fitted to look after the county's affairs if he is elected to the office of Commissioner.

When the Miami Conservancy bought a tract of 3,000 acres of land, including what was then the site of the village of Osborn, it appeared for a time as though Osborn would be wiped off the map and the business of the little town hopelessly scattered. Such a condition would have meant the loss of a million and a half in taxes to Greene County. Mr. Frahn was the man who stepped to the front, rallied the hesitating and uncertain citizens, and created enthusiastic sentiment in favor of moving the town to a new site and continuing business in Greene County. He was elected president of the Osborn Removal Company and his capable direction of the complete moving intact of a town of twelve hundred inhabitants, has brought him favorable newspaper and magazine notice throughout the entire country.

Mr. Frahn's activities have not ceased however with the completion of the removal of the town. He has been one of the leading spirits in securing the two new cement factories for the town on its new site. The Southwestern Portland Cement Company and the Wabash Portland Cement Company have both established large plants there and incidentally have added a million and a half to Greene County's tax duplicate.

For the first time Bath Township is now bringing out a candidate for County Commissioner and naturally it has chosen the man who has been most active in preserving and furthering the interests of the township.

Mr. Frahn has been in the grain business in Osborn for thirty years. He is a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of the Knights of Pythias and Junior Order and an all around business man, lodge man and community booster.

He stands on a general platform of good roads for the whole county, a fair and impartial division of the county's improvements and the utmost care in the expending of every tax dollar. Having successfully headed the extraordinary project of moving of Osborn the people of his home township feel that his executive ability has been fully demonstrated and his able conduct of his business and farm interests have proven his general efficiency. If elected he will bring to the affairs of the county the same enthusiasm, judgment and force that have raised him to leadership in his home community.

The old adage, "silence is golden" can now be appreciated by Ollie Downard, 23, of Washington C. H. O.

Downard was found guilty of drunk and disorderly conduct when arraigned in Police Court Monday morning and was fined $25 and costs by Judge E. D. Smith.

Downard, however, was not satisfied with the decision and said something back to the judge who immediately raised the fine to $50 and costs. He was sentenced to the Dayton Work House to work out the fine.

Health Hints
by the
Father of Physical Culture

Most alarming facts have recently been brought to light in regard to the question of the proper nourishment of children. Malnutrition and undernourishment are the most serious conditions that can affect a growing child, and this crime against childhood is one of the most terrible evils of society.

For the child it means the stunting of growth, impairment of health and lessened resistance to disease and particularly encourages a predisposition to tuberculosis. In America today, every seventh child dies before the end of the first year, and two of the remaining six die before reaching maturity—and America is perhaps the best-fed nation in the world.

In some of the poorer districts of our large cities, as many as seventy per cent of the children are found to be suffering from malnutrition. Not so many are actually underfed as are improperly fed. Even in the most fashionable schools, in well-to-do neighborhoods, forty per cent of the children have been found suffering from malnutrition. All these children had more than enough food placed before them three times a day, but it was not of the proper quality, or the children did not eat enough, because they were pampered, under-exercised, or their appetites ruined by indulgence in improper foods.

As with infants so with other children, their weight is a fair index to their nutritive condition. Once maturity is reached, there should be little change in body weight; but the child constantly growing, should be constantly increasing its weight, and any deviation from the normal rate of increase calls for investigation. Hence the importance of knowing what this rate is in the average case.

But the weight does not tell the whole story. If the increase were always that of vital tissue, no further figures would be needed but children can gain weight without actually growing. Similarly if past accumulations of fat are being lost, they may grow while their weight is decreasing.

Children need a variety of natural foods; they tire quickly of the monotonous and prescribed diets. A child is usually told to eat what is set before him. Hence if he does not like this particular food, he does not eat enough.

WIFE AND SON OF FORMER XENIAN HURT IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. Edwin F. Gowdy of 1410 Creighton Avenue, Dayton, was severely bruised and cut and her five-year-old son, Robert, probably internally injured when a motor bus upset Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock on a road between Dayton and Lebanon, near Centerville.

Mrs. Gowdy's husband, Dr. Edwin F. Gowdy, a Dayton dentist, formerly resided in Xenia and is the son of Mrs. Violet Gowdy of West Market Street.

Several Dayton Odd Fellows who were on their way to Lebanon to attend the state lodge meeting were also injured when the bus overturned. The bus hit some loose gravel while travelling at high speed, it is said.

All the passengers of the bus were cut and bruised but Mrs. Gowdy and her son were the only ones requiring medical attention.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES WILL BE ISSUED SOON

New telephone directories for Xenia have not as yet arrived, according to H. W. Cleaver, commercial manager, but are expected to be here and ready for distribution within a week or ten days.

The delay in shipment is thought to be due to the consolidation and unification of the two Dayton exchanges which took place recently and resulted in a distribution of over 27,000 new directories.

The reorganization of the numbering system has gone into effect and nearly 300 local subscribers whose phones are listed at the Xenia exchange will be effected by the reorganization it was said, Monday at the Ohio Bell Telephone Company.

The new directory comprises a total of 2,500 telephones. Users of Xenia telephones are asked to banish the old numbers from their minds and start afresh with the new directory in order to facilitate service.

NEW MINISTER
London, Aug. 2.—According to information received in government circles today, Senator Belcourt has accepted the Canadian ministry to Washington.

EAST END NEWS

Mr. John Porter, 80, of East Church Street, one of the oldest citizens of Xenia, who has been a "shut-in" for the past six years was surprised Sunday afternoon when the Community Bible School, in charge of Mrs. Hatfield Spencer, assisted by Mrs. A. J. Chatfield, held a devotional service at his home. Mrs. Chatfield read the twenty-third Psalm and Mrs. Spencer led in prayer. Mr. Porter thanked all his friends who have been kind to him during his illness and who assisted in the services Sunday.

The Rev. L. C. Ridley, of Wilmington, was the week end guest of friends here.

The Effie Carter W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Blackwell.

The Rev. T. J. Smith, pastor of the Zion Baptist Church, Dayton and Moderator of the Western Union Association remained over and preached at the Third Baptist Church all day Sunday. His Church Choir accompanied him Sunday and sang at the afternoon services. The Rev. Mr. Smith was guest of the Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Howe while in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crosswhite, Washington C. H., Ohio. George W. Shanklin will address the East End Ladies' Republican Club, Tuesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, August 5, at the M. M. Hall, East Main Street. The public is invited.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells,—and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes Venus-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

POSTAL RECEIPTS REMAIN NORMAL

As an example of the soundness of business conditions in Xenia this year as well as last, Postmaster H. E. Rice says that postal receipts for the local office during the month of July, totaled $3,297.01, which is about on a par with the receipts of July of last year.

Almost without exception the majority of post offices in nearby cities declare that postal receipts this year are up to the average, contrary to the general belief that the financial condition of the country is poor it is said.

EPIDEMIC OF SMALL POX MAY YET REACH HERE SAYS DR. GRUBE

Although Xenia and Greene County have so far escaped the malignant form of small pox which is sweeping in epidemic form over the country and in spite of the fact that U. S. Public Health officials believe its spread is being checked, this county may be visited by the disease next winter.

This is the belief of Dr. R. H. Grube, county health commissioner, who is not particularly optimistic over the fact that the epidemic has not made itself apparent here yet. The fact that it is raging in virulent form in Michigan, that there are cases in Pittsburgh and that some cases have even been reported in Northern Ohio is indication, he believes, that this section may yet be visited by the disease.

Every precaution will be taken to check the epidemic as soon as it makes itself apparent here, Dr. Grube says. The disease now being noticed over the country with fatal results, is a much more serious type of small pox than that which has visited Xenia and Greene County in the past, he says.

The type which has been reported here is a mild form of small pox known as the African type, and out of 500 cases reported in the country in the last six years, only one death has resulted, the records show. The malignant form of small pox, has its origin in Northern Europe, particularly in Russia, and often proves fatal in a very short time.

The present epidemic was first noticed three years ago in Kansas City, where out of 300 cases, more than 100 died. This ratio has held good in other places also, Denver, Col., reporting more than 300 deaths out of 1,000 cases. Vaccination is the only preventive for the disease, according to Dr. Grube, although its appearance here will be marked immediately by more rigid quarantining than for the milder form.

The disease, if it reaches this county, will come through people who have been in sections where it has been raging and have been exposed to it. People known to have been exposed to the disease should be vaccinated immediately and cases where the disease has already taken hold, it will be isolated as nearly as possible to prevent its spread.

Ex-service men vaccinated during the War, who have been subject to catching the disease, should submit to another vaccine treatment, although in practically all cases of vaccination so far of men vaccinated during the war, the vaccine has not "taken."

RED CROSS MAKES RECORD AT LORAIN

Lorain, O., Aug. 2.—Red Cross nurses and doctors made a remarkable record in caring for the injured in the Lorain disaster. With 350 persons under treatment, not a single case of tetanus has developed, and but a small number of injuries have become infected. Equally remarkable, in the opinion of nurses, is the fact that there has been no epidemic of any kind in the affected area. Since closing of the first-aid stations, maintained for the first weeks following the tornado, the nurses have been engaged in a follow-up of cases discharged from the hospital or under a doctor's care. The city of Lorain has been divided into five districts and the Red Cross nurses, co-operating with other nurses and the board of health, check daily on cases still under treatment and follow the hospital cases into the homes, thus maintaining a high health standard in the tornado district.

Income Shows Decrease.

Toledo, Aug. 2.—The Indiana, Columbus and Eastern Traction company had a total income of $1,603,365.38 for the year ending June 30, 1924, a decrease of $47,807.18, according to the annual report of J. H. McClure, receiver. Because of decreased earnings and increased expenses, the balance of $25,385.47 shown a year ago is replaced by a deficit of $82,809.11, the report shows.

BRINGING UP FATHER

LOVE-OR FAME?

by
VIOLET DARE
Author of "The Half-Time Wife"

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

DOROTHY LANE goes to New York to visit a friend and try to break into the movies. She soon gets started, and through the friendship of

LAWRENCE FRENCH, a young publicity man, gets an engagement with

JOHN SEWARD, "the great lover of the screen," who falls in love with her and asks her to marry him. However, she cares more for French, but is not sure that he cares for her. She has an unfortunate experience with

EIKHORN, one of the big producers, and decides to go back home and give up her career, when French gets her a part in a picture being made in the country by

CARL BANNING. French follows her to the country and proposes to her. Banning persuades them not to be married at once, and French goes back to New York. The star of the production,

CRYSTAL MAY, does all that she can to make things unpleasant for Dorothy. Crystal refuses to do a dangerous leap, and Banning gives that scene to Dorothy.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT.

XLVII—MY BIG SCENE.

PHIL CABOT took his place on a rock over at one side, and we went to work. He was supposed to have chased me down the lane leading to the falls—we would take that scene the next day—and now stood only a few feet from me, shaking his fist and shouting at me as he saw that I was going to escape from him.

I had to register fear as I looked at him, and then look even more frightened as I turned to look at the falls. That wasn't acting on my part, either! Then I stepped back on the rocks at the edge of the water, and he rushed toward me. I stumbled then as I turned and rushed into the water again; my knees were shaking so that they wouldn't hold me up, but Banning evidently thought I did it on purpose, for he shouted, "Great!"

Cabot began edging toward me, and that was my cue to take a few steps more into the water and then throw my arms up over my head and jump. We were so near the edge of the falls that although the water covered the rocks underneath, there wasn't enough of it to carry me down with it; I could jump clear of the water and land in the net which had been stretched clear across the precipice down which the water fell. Then a dummy would be thrown over the falls and the camera would get it in the water below.

I took one step, and the water seemed to be clutching at my ankles and dragging me down. I don't believe that Mr. Banning knew how strong the current was there. I hesitated, and, though I could feel my own hands just clawing at my face, I hardly knew what I was doing. All I realized was that I was simply scared to death, but that I must go on.

I took another step, and my legs just seemed to sag under me. I knew that if I fell I'd be swept over the falls just as sure as anything. I forced myself to step once more, which brought me to the edge of the falls—and then I looked down, the one thing Carl Banning had warned me not to do.

The water was sweeping over the edge of the falls in a cool, even wall. Then, when it got down a little way, it began to break into spray, and went dashing down into the pool below in a swirling, foaming mass.

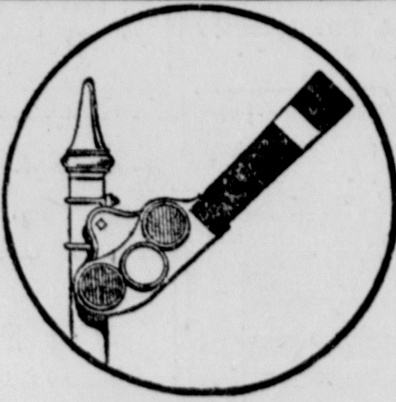

And how it roared! I remembered how I'd listened to it just a few nights before, after Larry and I had been telling each other that nothing could ever separate us again. It had mocked me then—and I wondered if the fear I'd felt that night was a prophecy of my being swept over the falls.

All that happened in just a few moments. I was bewildered, yet my thoughts raced like the water in the pool so far below me. Then I heard Phil Cabot exclaim, "My God, she'll be killed!" and Carl Banning's crisp voice came to me, curt and commanding: "Jump, Dorothy—into the middle of the net—that's great stuff, but jump now."

That shout of Banning's saved me. That and the fact that the camera was grinding away just as steadily as if I hadn't been in danger of being killed. The sound of the turning camera handle seemed to assure me that nothing could happen. I suppose because such thrilling things are shown on the screen, and yet you sit back comfortably and realize that the actors were really safe.

I looked up again from the green whirlpool below, and jumped squarely into the net. It seemed years before I struck it, and then it gave so under me that for a moment I thought that it wasn't holding, and that I was falling with it into the pool. But it held, and after the first awful shock was over I came to myself again.
